Academic background

I am an Assistant Professor at the Uncertainty in AI group of Eindhoven University of Technology. Previously, I was a postdoctoral researcher in the AI group at TU Dortmund. Before that, I was a member of Machine Learning group at Leuphana University of Lüneburg as a Research Assistant, and pursuing my PhD in Machine Learning in the Computer Science department of TU Darmstadt. During my PhD, I spent a six-month internship at the Recommendation team of Criteo Company in France.

I received both of my B.Sc. and M.Sc degrees in Computer Science from the University of Tehran, Iran.
